

As someone who believes that televised media is largely responsible for under-informing the public, it is important that media stations be monitored and required to present balanced and thoughtful information to its public. It is dangerous to allow otherwise. Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. Showing a biased piece of media to a large amount of people just prior to an important election is corrupt. Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. Our government needs to monitor what's happening with the media.
